I had the opportunity recently to attend a conference where there were 10,000 plus attendees. It was a conference for church musicians so it was understood that many of those attendees would be musically inclined. There were times during the three day event where everyone sang together. It was an amazing experience, especially since I was surrounded by lots of wonderful harmony not just unison. I am not going to lie; I love music that involves lots of instruments or voices, or both. It creates those goose bump, heart stopping moments, especially when I can be part of the music. I am drawn to the movement of the music and carried along as the momentum and sound builds and the different parts layer together to create a beautiful sound. But it would not happen unless every single voice or instrument felt compelled to be part of the bigger sound. I was one of 10,000 but my contribution mattered and was important as was every other individual, unique voice.

It is easy sometimes to feel like what I (you) have to offer to the bigger picture doesn't really matter. It might be a vote, an opinion, a supportive gesture or giving voice to a bigger piece of music or message. It is easier sometimes to stand back and just listen or observe. But actively participating is so much more fulfilling and great modeling for our children and grandchildren.

So if you get the chance to use your voice...GO FOR IT!!!

FRIENDLY HOUSE HAPPENINGS

On Tuesday, August 6, the Davenport Morning Optimists held their annual “Golf for Youth” tourney at Oakwood Country Club. Friendly House will receive some of the proceeds from the event. Thank you to the Optimists and all of this year’s participants for their support.

The Quad Cities Hash House Harriers generously raised money for our programs and services this spring. They held a Rock and Roll Bingo night, a pancake breakfast and their annual Red Dress Run, all of which raised money to support Friendly House (more than $16,500!)
